closes loopholes by raising the domestic content threshold, strengthens domestic supply chains for critical goods, and Increases transparency and accountability in Buy America Act rules. While follow-on executive order guidance and clarifications are forthcoming, the Government requests Contractor explore what actions it can take to increase the sourcing of C-130 PBL items using US Large and Small Business suppliers.

For purposes of the Section H clauses below, "Government" means the United States Government. The following Section H clauses are incorporated into the Contract in full text:

In order to facilitate the annual funding profile, the Government recognizes the Contractor's termination liability may be greater than the allotted cumulative funding at any point in time up until the funding is authorized for the option period. In the event the Government initiates a termination for convenience or a termination for default, the contractor's termination proposal will not exceed the five (5) year base period estimated value.

(a) Warranties. The Supplier warrants that—

(1) The base unit prices set forth in the Schedule do not include allowances for any portion of the contingency covered by this one time use clause; and

(2) Prices invoiced shall be computed in accordance with the terms of this one time use clause.

(b) Definitions. As used throughout this one time use clause—

(1) "Index", for the purpose of price adjustment under this one time use clause, means the Producer Price Index(es) reported in the monthly publication entitled, "Producer Price Indexes", published by the United States (U.S.) Department of Labor (DOL), Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) for the following code number(s) and title(s): See Appendix A of Enclosure 1 for full list of PPI Codes by FSC and its application;

(2) "Base index" means the arithmetic average of the final version of the indexes published for the 6 months preceding the closing date for receipt of proposals or the date required for receipt of final proposal revisions, if discussions were held.

(3) "Buyer" means the Derco Supply Chain Management representative responsible for administering the subcontract between Derco and Supplier.

(4) "Contract year" means the 12-month period beginning with the effective date of the contract award, and each 12-month period beginning with the corresponding month in subsequent calendar years.

(5) Adjusting index means the ____ arithmetic average of the [X] first published or [] final version of the index for the __6__ months prior to the month in which the adjusting contract modification is effective.

(6) "Base unit price" means the unit price applicable to a quantity of a contract line item established at contract award, exclusive of any price adjustment pursuant to this one time use clause.

(7) Adjustment period means the period during which a particular adjustment to the unit price under this one time use clause (calculated at the beginning of the adjustment period) will apply.

(c) Adjustments. No later than 75 calendar days after the start of each adjustment period, the Buyer will calculate the adjusting index and any adjusted contract unit price(s) for the new adjustment period, and modify the subcontract via a bilateral contract modification accordingly. The aforementioned contract modification will show the covered performance period, base index, adjusting index, base unit price, mathematical calculations, and the changed unit price(s). The price adjustment shall apply to all orders issued within the covered contract year. The effective date of the contract modification shall align with the first date of the contract year, establishing the unit price for the adjustment period. The Buyer will base the price adjustment(s) for each adjustment period on the percentage change between the base index and the adjusting index for the adjustment period, as applied to the base unit price.

(1) The Supplier shall increase its price in any particular adjustment period if the adjusting index is greater than the base index or decrease its price in any particular adjustment period if the adjusting index is less than the base index. This contract allows ____1__ price adjustments per contract year.

(2) Example of adjustment calculation:

Base Index=109.88*

Adjusting Index =112.72*

Less base index =109.88

Change to index =2.84

Divide change to index by base index =2.84 / 109.88 = .02585 (2.585%)

Multiply by the base unit price =$50.00 x .02585 = $1.29

= Unit Price Adjustment

Adjusted unit price =$51.29

*In computing the base and adjusting indexes, the contracting officer will round the resulting figure to

The contracting officer will round all dollar figures to the nearest cent.

(d) Upward ceiling on economic price adjustment. No upward ceiling shall apply under this economic price adjustment one time use clause, unless the BLS series is based on indices below the six-digit level. (An index "below the six-digit level" in BLS usage means an index with an identifier exceeding six-digits). For any BLS series that is below the six-digit level, the following ceiling shall apply: The Supplier agrees that the aggregate of the increases in any contract unit price under the terms of this one time use clause shall not exceed ___% (percent) of the original base unit price, except as provided hereafter.

(1) If at any time the Supplier has reason to believe that within the near future a price adjustment under the terms of this one time use clause will be required that will exceed the adjustment ceiling for any item, the Supplier shall promptly notify the Buyer in writing of the expected increase. The notification shall include a revised ceiling the Supplier believes is sufficient to permit completion of remaining contract performance, along with appropriate explanation and documentation as required by the Buyer.

(2) If an increase in the index would raise a contract unit price for an item above the current ceiling, the Buyer may issue a contract modification to raise the ceiling. If the Buyer does not raise the contract ceiling, the Buyer will promptly notify the Supplier in writing.

(e) Invoices. The basis for prices payable under this contract is the latest adjusted unit price incorporated into the contract as of the date of order.

(f) Retroactive adjustment. This paragraph applies only if the Buyer selected "first published index" in paragraph (b)(4). If the Buyer has already paid for orders delivered during an adjustment period, the Supplier may request a retroactive adjustment. The Buyer will, base the retroactive adjustment on the difference between a higher final revised index applicable to an adjustment period and the index values used in calculating the unit price for that adjustment period, subject to the adjustment ceiling in paragraph (d) and under the following conditions:

(1) The request for equitable adjustment clearly establishes that the unit price adjustment for the adjustment period would have been higher if the final revised index had been used; and identifies all invoices and payments to which it applies cites the specific index differences relating to the requested adjustment, and provides a calculation of the total net price adjustment for items delivered during that adjustment period.
